Dear Partners, Customers and Colleagues,

This year our company has made a significant step in its development, following our long-term strategy. Moving ahead with confidence, we have managed to maintain and improve our positions despite the tough competition, keep working on quality of our products and reducing production cost, along with keeping high level of customer service for each end consumer.

The best confirmation that we have chosen right path is encouragement from our customers and partners, who share our values and goals.

Therefore, continuous development is extremely important for our company, and we are pleased to inform you about new stage of our progress – reorganization of Closed Joint-Stock Company “Kharkiv Yeast Plant” into Limited Liability Company “BALEX Company” (contracted form – BALEX Company LLC), which is a full legal successor of all rights and obligations of our Plant.

State registration of the event mentioned above was performed on March, 19, 2013. Other company details including Business Registration Number (EDRPOU), location, bank data, tax reference number remained unchanged.

We are confident that it is not just about changing type of ownership and company name, but rather an attainment of new level of development, review of our role on Ukrainian and World markets, step forward to new accomplishments and beginning of new serious projects.

We thank you for your support and hope for further fruitful cooperation.
